

Dear Friends,

Thank you for joining our “University of Victoria Online English Programs” webinar. We hope our presentation succeeded in ‘bringing to life’ the online learning experience that we look forward to offering your students soon! Early next week, we will share the webinar recording with you, so please stay tuned.

Next week, on June 10 + 11, we will be hosting webinars for students.

To invite your students to attend, please share this invitation with them, so that they can register to attend the session that best suits their schedule.

Lastly, to follow up on a few of the questions that came up today, I’m pleased to share some additional ELC Connect materials:

- English for Global Communication program calendar (attached) and video
- University Admission Preparation – Online program calendar (attached)

Thanks again for your attention today and for your continued support!
Sending best wishes on behalf of today’s presenters and the rest of the ELC.
